

Custom Enlargements:

This Studio can only aim to provide optimum results. Nothing less will do. All selected photographs will benefit finishing enhancements. The Digital Age has changed much in portrait photography. In addition, to digital processing procedures, it is now customary to spend considerable on finishing – refining touches to optimize a photograph, which in the professional hands of James results are carried out to perfection.

A sampling of portrait optimization includes cropping, burning and dodging, color adjustments, b/w conversion, working on eyes and teeth, moderating lines and creases, and other subtle enhancements that make remarkable improvements without changing the essence of the subject.

Enlargements are creatively printed in house by James on a wide format printer with a twelve ink system. Inks and papers are of best archival quality. Customary papers in stock and recommended are satin, velvet, and canvas.

Highly discriminating tastes may desire additional/special enhancements. This may include such things as background changes, changing locations (like to the beach), head exchanges or subject removal and many other possibilities. This PhotoShop work is priced at $80ph.

Note: While at the Studio sitting, as we continue to take photographs, we will take pauses from time to time during the session for reviewing our results on a large monitor to make adjustments and initial selections, and then move on to new poses. After the sitting selected proofs are normally delivered by e-mail via web size jpg's, or for $25 can be burned to disk.

Proofs have only minimum enhancements and full optimization is only perfected on the final selected photograph to be enlarged and printed. Any additional photograph can be enhanced and printed to any size based on PhotoShop and printing charges.
