(in alphabetical order)

Framing

There are many framing options. How to make a photographic image look its best with the right presentation is an art form on its own. What's the most suitable way to print (the type of paper and size) and then frame it for display (frame, shadow box, or using contemporary acrylic techniques). If you find assistance would be helpful James' keen eye and a sense of style nurtured over decades of dedicated involvement with the visual arts, can be called upon to consult you with these decisions... simply call 954-564-1112. James can handle all aspects for you with your oversight and provide you options and price quotes with respect to the size print(s) to be framed.

Scanning

High resolution 35mm film scanning is available using a dedicated Nikon Super Coolscan 5000 as well as flatbed scanning of smaller size flat art. Please let us know what you need so we can quote you a price.

Stock

Textures, flowers, ships and boats, local area scenes and those from around the world, James has these and many more images on a variety of other subjects available from a large selection of stock photography today, that will steadily be part of an expanding portfolio stock display on www.jamesschotgallerystudio.com. If you can't find it there yet, call 954-564-1112 and we may have what you are looking for.
